Location

Although technically a city in its own rights, Beverly Hills is seen as one of L.A.'s more affluent neighborhoods and offers a star-studded escape amid the excitement of the big city. Some of L.A.'s most famous restaurants, bars, shops, and attractions are nearby—such as the “Golden Triangle” of shopping around Rodeo Drive and Spago restaurant—as well as The Pallet cultural institution. The nearest beach is just 20 minutes away, as is LAX Airport and downtown L.A.
